Editors Of School Papers Meet At High School

Three hundred and sixty-five editors of school papers, representing sixty-five schools, came to the Senior High school Wednesday to attend the annual meeting of the Massachusetts League of School Publications. The afternoon was spent in conferences except for brief exercises at which Principal Franklin P. Hawkes of Junior High West presided and gave the address of welcome. Supper was served in the gymnasium from tables decorated with the blue and gold of Junior High West. Twenty-five girls from the domestic department of that school acted as waitresses, with Miss Starrett, the head of the department in charge. The Junior West orchestra, augmented by a few from the Senior High, played during supper, under the direction of J. E. Inzig.

Harold Bisbee of Milton, president of the Southern Massachusetts League and Everett E. Day of the Southern Junior High of Somerville, president of the Junior High Publications League, presided at the evening meeting. The speakers were Dennis A. McCarthy, on "The Place of and Improvement of Poetry in School Magazines," Robert F. Mason, alumni secretary of Boston University, on "The Business Management of a School Paper," and Willard DeLue of the Boston Globe editorial staff, on "The Function of the Editor of a School Paper."

The evening closed with the presentation of the play, "Marjorie Makes Good," by Junior High West pupils, directed by members of the faculty. Those taking part were: Gertrude Cooke, Margaret Hart, Helen Phinney, Olive Little, Hazel Smith, Grace Carbury, Edith Anderson, Alice Powell, Marjorie Baker, John Parker, Willard Wallace, Copeland MacAllister, Donald Hagerman, Frederick Travers, William Robinson, Mildred Eagan.

The Arlington Historical Society will meet in the vestry of the First Parish Unitarian church, Tuesday, January 31, at 8 P. M. "Forty Niners"—Extracts from letters and journals of "California Pioneers in 1849," will be the subject for the evening.

New Building Laws

All persons interested in the proposed NEW BUILDING LAWS for the Town of Arlington, can see a preliminary draft of the code in the Inspector of Buildings office at Town Hall.

The Committee on Revision of the Town's By-Laws will hold a PUBLIC MEETING in the Hearing Room, at Town Hall, on Thursday, Feb. 2, 1928 to hear all persons who wish to be heard in regard to the provisions of the proposed code.

For the Committee, F. F. LOW, Chairman.

LIEUT. AND MRS. HOOLEY CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

Lieutenant and Mrs. Daniel M. Hooley celebrated their thirty-fifth anniversary on Wednesday. In the afternoon they went to the theatre, and in the evening invited their friends informally to their home, 268 Broadway, where they entertained them delightfully, serving delicious refreshments during the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Hooley were married January 25th, 1893, by the Rev. Fr. Smythe of St. Joseph's church, Roxbury. Mrs. Hooley, whose maiden name was Miss Alice Harrington, was the daughter of Jeremiah and Annie Harrington. Before her marriage her home was on Kneeland street, which was then a desirable section of the city. She attended Roxbury High and later, Bryant & Stratton's. She came to Arlington as a bride.

Mr. Hooley was born in Newton, October 23rd, 1862, one of the nine children of Jeremiah and Mary Hooley. He attended Newton High school. He has lived in Arlington for forty-five years, and has been a member of the police department for forty. He served as a patrolman under Chief Eugene Mead and in 1908, under Chief Urquhart, was made a lieutenant, which office he holds now as well as that of town constable. Lieutenant Hooley has been an efficient police officer and has been instrumental in making several important arrests, while his courtesy has made him many friends.

The couple have one son, Daniel M. Hooley, Jr. He is a graduate of Arlington High, where he was a two letter man and prominent in dramatics. For the past two years he has been a student at the Suffolk Law School, and is also receiving tetter the Menotomy Trust Company.

MRS. FRANK V. NOYES GIVES A TEA

Wednesday afternoon, January 25th, Mrs. Frank V. Noyes gave a tea at four o'clock, at the Noyes residence, 11 Gris street, to meet the recent bride of her son, Mr. Richard V. Noyes. The rooms were fragrant with roses, pines and other flowers, many from friends of the hostess, who, with her daughter-in-law, received in the reception room. The function brought together intimate friends of Mrs. Noyes, who, in this informal way, were introduced to her daughter-in-law.

The tea table, where pink roses and blue candles in silver candlesticks were used in decoration, was presided over by Mrs. James A. Bailey, Mrs. Edwin P. Stickney, Mrs. Charles Garvin and Mrs. A. D. Woodward. Other ladies assisting in the dining room were Mrs. H. Stanley Marsh, Mrs. Everett P. Turner, Mrs. Harold G. Rice and Mrs. John G. Brackett.

ARLINGTON COUNCIL, K. of C. HOLD GET-TOGETHER MEETING

Arlington Council, Knights of Columbus, held a get-together meeting in their hall on Mystic street, Tuesday evening, which was filled to its capacity. There were many visitors from other councils, who enjoyed the fine program arranged by lecturer John Sexton. The business meeting was put through as quickly as possible.

John J. Dale was introduced as the master of ceremonies for the evening. The speakers of the evening were "Doc" Gaudreau and "Dinner" McNamara, both of the Boston Braves. They gave the audience some inside information on the national sport, speaking especially of the bright prospects for the Braves the coming season. Joseph Lawler of Salem, a humorist of considerable note, entertained with stories, recitations and vocal numbers. William C. Scanlan, traffic officer of this town, and known as "the singing cop," sang a group of vocal numbers. Dr. William T. McCarty spoke of his track and cross-country teams, and paid high

Boston Elevated Asks Pleasant St. Bus Permit

The Boston Elevated Railway has asked the Board of Selectmen for a permit to operate motor vehicles on Pleasant street between the Arlington-Belmont Town line and Massachusetts avenue. A public hearing on the question will be held in the Town Hall next Thursday evening, February second, at eight in the evening.

The bus line for which the permit is asked will be the Arlington section of a proposed Watertown Square—Arlington Centre Route. The route will be divided into three zones and the fare will be five cents in each zone—that is, five cents from Arlington to Belmont Centre; five from Belmont Centre to Waverley Centre, and five from Waverley to Watertown. The fare for the whole distance from Arlington to Watertown will be ten cents. No transfers will be issued, as this, Mr. Edward P. Dana, the general manager, explains, is a new line, not one replacing a trolley. Consequently the fare from Arlington Heights or East Arlington to Belmont Centre would be eleven and a quarter cents, and to Waverley Centre or Watertown, sixteen and a quarter cents.

The bus schedule has not yet been planned. Naturally it will depend somewhat upon the number of passengers patronizing the bus.

A petition from the Hart Motor Bus Company for a permit to run a bus along Pleasant street has been before the Selectmen since the latter part of December. A public hearing was held on the thirtieth of December, but no decision on the matter has as yet been made by the Selectmen.

SPECIAL NOTICE
At 8 P. M., Thursday, Feb. 2, 1928, a public hearing will be given in the Town Hall, Arlington, Mass., on the petition of the Boston Elevated Railway to operate motor vehicles in the Town of Arlington on Pleasant Street, between the Arlington-Belmont Town line and Massachusetts Avenue, (Arlington section of Watertown Square—Arlington Centre Route).

TOWN HALL CROWDED FOR FIDDLERS' CONTEST

Robbins Memorial Town Hall was crowded to the doors, and the sale of tickets stopped long before the program began, for the old-time fiddlers' contest, which was held Wednesday evening for the benefit of the building fund of St. James' church. The contest was under the direction of Thomas F. Priest, who has been a member of the police force for years and who is known as the "Fiddling Cop." In the contest were twenty-five fiddlers from all over the state as well as from England, Canada, Ireland and Prince Edward Island. Arlington was represented by Joseph Conboy and A. M. Jones.

The judges—Walter A. Hawkins, director of the Jordan Marsh Company; Denis A. McCarthy, poet and author, and Miss C. J. Fuller, former chairman of the Ann Morgan Memorial Fund for Devastated France—delivered a sealed decision so it is not yet known who was the winner. There was an excellent vaudeville program in addition to the fiddling contest.

Editor, The Advocate:
I was glad to read your editorial "No Change Needed" in last week's issue.

I am strongly in favor of the Town Meeting form of government, and hope a change to the City form is far away. We can remain as we are if we do not forget that progress must be served. This means that our Town managers must not only be upright and capable men, but must be big and broad and unprejudiced; that they must have only the best interests of the Town at heart regardless of their personal feelings. It means that they must see that with Arlington's increase in population and business growth it is progressive and up-to-date. As children grow they are given greater liberties, and as our Town grows it too must have greater liberties.

It does not seem to me that our taxi innovation makes for progress, that the long delay in giving the people a bus line connection with Belmont and Watertown, which would undoubtedly bring new business to our center where we have a group of activities and stores which are excelled only by cities with at least two or three times our population, makes for progress; that the apparent extreme lack of interest in our street car transportation facilities—the daily traffic is so large and the accommodations so meager that our people are handled every day almost like cattle—makes for progress.

If we wish to continue our present form of government let us be mindful of the Town's needs and see to it that we have broadminded, unprejudiced, energetic and aggressive and progressive men to manage the Town, men whose interest will be displayed in every department and who will cooperate to make the Town bigger, better and busier.

Yours truly,
EARL A. RYDER

TOWN OFFICIALS MOVE INTO NEW QUARTERS

The Tax Collector and Treasurer and the Board of Assessors have moved into their new quarters at the Robbins Memorial Town Hall, and say that they find them much more comfortable. Painters have been at work all this week and probably it will be next week before they have finished, but otherwise the alterations are completed.

The new office of the assessors is thirty-two feet by twenty-three and is in the rear corridor. Next to it they have a small private office. The treasurer's office, which is much smaller than the one he formerly occupied, is at the front of the building. The tax collector's office has also been enlarged so that it measures about thirty-five by fifteen feet. It takes in two-thirds of the former quarters of the assessors.

The plans for the alterations were drawn by Mr. Charles H. Gannett, member of the board of assessors, and the work has been done, under his direction, by Mr. Henry E. Gamester.

HIGH WIND CAUSES CONSIDERABLE DAMAGE

The high wind, accompanied by rain, which came during the early morning hours of Wednesday, did considerable damage.

An awning was blown from over the door of David Levine's tailor shop at 713 Massachusetts avenue. In falling, a rod attached, went through a plate glass window. Near the corner of Lake street and Herbert road, a tree was blown down. It carried with it wires attached. Another tree was blown down at Broadway and Rawson road. This also took the wires attached to the tree. A window in one of the sleeping rooms in the upper apartment occupied by the William M. Hays, was blown in. An electric light pole blew down at 127 Brattle street, but no damage to other property resulted.

The wind continued throughout the day. Estimates place the force of the wind nearly everywhere at 70 miles an hour or more. The observer at Blue Hill read a maximum velocity of 88 miles an hour at 6.10 in the evening. The Boston newspapers of Thursday morning stated that this is the greatest recorded with the exception of 90 miles on the 13th of last October.

During the early evening a part of a large sign on the top of the building owned by Nathan Hoffman on Medford street was blown off. In its fall it hit one of the windows in the "Alice", and broke the same.

One of the gates at the center crossing of the B. & M. R. R. was also broken.

MISS AILEEN DEVEREAUX IS SPENDING WINTER IN FLORIDA

Miss Aileen Devereaux has been making a ten-days' visit to her good friend, Miss Helen Chellis, formerly of Arlington, at DeLand, Florida. Mr. and Mrs. William E. Wood have been able to see them, considerably, and trips have been made together to DeLeon Springs, Benson Springs, Green Springs, Sanford and Blue Springs. These powerfully bubbling springs from the subterranean streams whose sources are hundreds of miles away, are a feature of Florida. Crystal Springs near Ocala, and Green Cove Springs being other instances.

Miss Devereaux, with Miss Chellis and another friend, motored to Fort Meyers, after her DeLand visit, where she plans to remain for the winter. Miss Chellis is a cousin of our townsman, Mr. Harold L. Frost.

Doherty Letter Shop

127 Palmer St. Arlington, Mass.
Tel. Arlington 4159-M

The superintendents, clerks and carriers of the local post office were hosts to their friends last Friday evening in G. A. R. Hall. The occasion was the celebration of the thirtieth anniversary of the introduction of the free delivery service into Arlington. Carrier Michael J. Kelly was prime mover in arranging the affair and acted as master of ceremonies during the evening.

Members of Francis Gould Post, 36, G. A. R., were special guests, as was also Postmaster Herbert Hanson of Boston. Other guests came from all over Greater Boston. Carrier James G. Keenan is the only man still connected with the post-office, of the original three who delivered mail in town. The others were Benjamin F. Cleary, now retired, and Charles Stevens, who later transferred to the clerical force and is now stationed at the South Postal Station. Other men, still employed in the local office, who were here thirty years ago, are carriers Michael Neville and John J. Murray and Clerk Daniel Haley. Superintendent William McNeil of the Arlington Heights Post-office was also in the local office thirty years ago.

The program opened with the singing of "The Red White and Blue" by the entire assembly, with Miss Frances Kelley at the piano. This was followed with a history of the Post Office by Mr. Keenan, which will be printed in full in these columns next week.

Then Carrier John Wilson of the Central Post Office gave a vocal solo, after which Herbert Hanson, Assistant Postmaster at Boston, gave a talk, which received hearty applause. Carrier M. J. Kelly of the local office recited "Jim Bludso" and for an encore gave "The Dandy Fifth," as a tribute to the G. A. R. men. When every one had joined in singing "Clementine" there was a talk by Superintendent P. J. Madden, who has been forty years in the post-office service and eight years superintendent of the Arlington office.

Following vocal selections by Carrier Oscar Doyle, who was in the Gloucester office for thirty-seven years and is now attached to the Arlington office, Post Commander Alfred H. Knowles of the G. A. R. gave "Reminiscences of Former Days." Carrier Thomas Mansfield of the Lexington office, accompanied on the piano by William J. McLaughlin of the Back Bay office, did step dancing. Superintendent Spaulding of Lexington, the "baby office" of the Boston Postal District, gave a talk and John Olsen of East Boston, vocal selections. Comrade Henry Clark, treasurer of Post 36, gave "Reminiscences of the Civil War."

A monologue and songs were contributed by Herbert Shad of the Somerville station, and Vice-president John F. Foley of the National Association of Letter Carriers spoke. After Miss Kelly had given a vocal selection, President James F. Danahy of Branch 34, N. A. L. C., gave a talk. Selections on Irish pipes by Michael J. Twomey and Shamus O'Heda; on the accordion by Mr. Twomey; piano selections by William J. McLaughlin and a reading, "Dangerous Dan McGrew," by Carrier Daniel E. Murphy preceded the grand finale, which was the singing of "America" by everyone.

A buffet luncheon served in the lower hall brought to a close a most delightful evening.

The Ladies' Guild of St. John's church will meet next Wednesday afternoon. At last week's meeting sewing on the missionary work was started. Tea was served by Miss Plumer and Mrs. Simonds.

SPECIAL NOTICE

The Selectmen will meet in their office, in Town Hall, on Monday, January 30, 1928, at 8 P. M. for the purpose of drawing a Warrant for the Town Meeting to be held March 5, 1928.

All persons desiring articles inserted in said Warrant must present said articles at that time, signed by at least ten (10) legal voters of the Town. All articles signed by the required number of voters, and left at the office of the Board before the above date, will be inserted in the Warrant.

SCHOOL NEWS

SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL

The Assembly on Friday, the 20th, took the form of a debate, the subject of which was: Resolved: That Final Examinations Should be Abolished from Arlington High School. The speakers on the affirmative side were Beth Hickey and Martha Pihl, while those on the negative side were Richard Barnard and Norbert Reardon. The chairman was Muriel Giles. The judges, who were Miss Jewett, Miss Bullock and Mr. Fowler, gave the decision to the negative side.

Final examinations in Law come on January thirtieth at two p. m.

"Jimmy" Kelley has been out of school several days because of a tonsil operation. Everyone has missed "Jimmy" and we all hope that he will be back before long.

Miss Vivian H. Taber of the English Department has returned to school after a short absence, due to the death of her father. Miss Shaddock, of Arlington, substituted during Miss Taber's absence.

Recently the heads of the various departments in school held a meeting to arrive at a common basis for judging the work of the pupils. Their report is to be ready for presentation at the next teachers' meeting, and if approved will be put into the hands of the pupils for approval.

Among those whose names appear on the honor list of Massachusetts Agricultural College are the following, who are from Arlington: Richard Davis, '28, Group II; Josephine Panzica, '28, Group III; John W. Devine, '29, Group III; Joseph H. Forest, '28, Group III.

On Friday, the twentieth, at 1.15 p. m. a special French class was held in room sixteen. The guest of the class was Madame Block, a Parisian of Alsatian birth, who spoke only in French for the benefit of the students.

PARMENTER JUNIOR HIGH

George Alexie of Division 3-B has been elected captain of the basketball team.

There will be a basketball game between the Parmenter Jr. High and Jr. High West, Friday (today). Both first and second teams will play.

The Safety Patrol are having official bands made for them by the third year sewing class. Colors—orange band and black letters.

Special Honor Roll

Grade 8—Marion Anderson, Verena Bond, Augusta Crosby, Barbara Llewellyn, Elizabeth Low, Winnifred Moody, Ruth Rowland, Virginia Tate, Mary Turner.

Grade 7—Alfona Bender, Barbara Crampton, Barbara Downs, Dorothy Fox, Bernadette Rowland, Thelma Toussaint, Jane Waterman, Flora Youngken.

Honorable Mention

Grade 9—Virginia Baker, Mary Brady, Daniel Buckley, Milton Byer, Robert Dareling, Dorothy Devlin, Elizabeth Eamie, Marion Evans, Carl Freyer, Edmund Gallucci, Barbara Hall, Priscilla Harding, Ward Harris, Marjorie Hilde, Theodore Lannefeld, Marjorie Lowcock, Marjorie Mc-

Cann, William McCarty, Anna Norberg, Weston Ogilvie, Jessie Peirce, Kenneth Rhoda, Barbara Rowland, Menina Seretto, Theresa Terjellan, Raymond Thomas, Helen Wilkins, Heber Youngken, Marion Youngken.

Grade 8—June Brackett, Olive Cameron, Ruth Carlton, Alexander Clark, Theodore Harding, Norton Kidder, Edith Kingman, Jean Marsh, Eleanor West.

Grade 7—Daniel Burns, Calista Cokroft, Marjorie Cutler, Clara Guzmann, Inez Hughes, Pauline Milton, Barbara Simonds, Ross Teel, Louise Turner, Herbert Waite, Cynthia Webb.

A one-act play entitled "Not Quite Such a Goose," was given before the Dramatic club by some of its members at the regular meeting Wednesday, January 18. The pupils in the play were Marjorie McCann, Marion Crampton, William McCarty, Elizabeth Hames and Morton Wiley. It was directed by Mrs. Gaffney. The play was so well received that it was repeated before the student body on this Friday.

The girls' basketball team has been holding their practice in the gym of the new Parmenter school every Monday and Friday afternoon at 2.30.

The Parmenter Junior High school boys play the West in basketball today, Friday.

JUNIOR HIGH CENTRE

Centre Junior High was successful in warding off the fierce assaults of the Southern Junior High, Somerville basketballers at the Old Town hall last Friday afternoon. The score was Centre 18, Southern 16. This is the second close game in as many weeks. The Somerville boys made a desperate rally in the closing moments of the game and they would have won but for the accurate shooting of Lester Barrett, who scored half of Centre's 18 points. Nobrega and Vornham played well for Somerville. Joe Donahue, a Centre alumnus did a fine job as referee. The line-up:

Centre Jr. High: Barrett, Barrett, Connors, C. Lane, Donahue, D. Thomsen, J. Turner, Mr. O'Neill. Southern Jr. High: Underhill, H. Vitello, Nobrega, P. Lane, W. Lane, Vornham.

Members of the Junior Safety Council, with Mr. Roth the sponsor of the council, attended the Polo games at the Commonwealth Armory in Allston last Saturday, witnessing the victory of Harvard varsity over the 110th cavalry and that of the Harvard Freshmen over the National Lancers. After the game a thorough inspection of the armory was made by the party.

Monday afternoon the Dramatic club held a costume party in the assembly hall. The first part of the program opened with a march in costume, followed by various games. The second part of the program was made up of vocal and instrumental musical selections, choral and folk dancing, after which refreshments were served. The committee in charge of arrangements consisted of Virginia Follen, chairman; Barbara Erickson, Mary Keefe, Marston Bradbury, Willard Hunt.

The play, "Margery Makes Good," will soon be presented by the Dramatic Club. The cast is as follows: Josephine Sears, Ethelyn Barber; Miss Sears (her aunt Jane), Alice Sacht; Mrs. Sears (her mother), Virginia Burgess; Josephine's Girl Friends—Caroline Moses, Jeanette Baird, Doris Elie, Dorothy Goodwin, Madeleine Harrington; Marjorie Deane (the nurse), Evelyn Ganong; Philip Sears, Francis Dineen; College Friends, Lindsay Blathrow, John Easton, Abner Wyman, Charles Lane, Robert Fleming; Nora, the maid, Dorothy Robinson.

JUNIOR HIGH WEST

Monday the boys' basketball team were preparing for the game with Winthrop. The Jr. West boys lost the game by a score of 29-13.

The boys ice hockey team won a victory over the Southern Junior High of Somerville. The score was 5-0. The team is being coached by Mr. O'Neill of Jr. High Centre.

A play, "Margery Makes Good," given on Wednesday, Jan. 25, at the League of School Publications Meeting, held in the Senior High School assembly, was coached by Mrs. Gaffney. The characters for the play were chosen for the most part from division 3R.

BOY SCOUT NOTES

At a meeting of the Court of Honor held in Arlington last Thursday, the following badges have been passed:

Second Class—Malcolm Ellison, Joseph Palmer, Charles Moore, John P. Sparrow and Robert Woodward of Troop 12.

First Class—Erik Jansson, 1, Curtis Hamilton, 6, and William Keefe, 7.

Merit Badges—Joseph Gardella, 1, Safety; Francis Mooney, 5, Pathfinding; Fred Corcoran, 5, Carpentry and Wood; Robert Atwood, 6, Life Saving; Personal Health; Public Health and Swimming; John Parker, 6, Pathfinding; Thomas Lord, 8, Bee Keeping; and Edward Sanger, 8, Cycling; Personal Health and Public Health.

Troop Five Notes

Troop five met as usual last Friday night. The committee men present were: MacAllister, Huerth, Hawkes, Ogren, Bowser, Evans and Peterson. The visitor for the evening was Mr. Geddis.

After the patrol meeting period there was a knot tying contest. The tenderfoot, second class and first class scouts composed the three teams. The first class scouts won easily, having every knot perfect.

Saturday, Scouts Mooney, Huerth, Ogren, Carter, Hawkes and Corcoran went to the machine shop. They are working for the machinery and plumbing merit badges. Mr. Ogren personally conducted the scouts through the large building, explaining the purpose and construction of the many up-to-date machines. That evening the same scouts worked at Mr. Ogren's home on the plumbing merit badge.

See the next court of honor notes in the Advocate and see what Troop Five scouts have done.

Sunshine—Its Secret—"The best was reserved for the last." Such was the verdict of nearly all who heard Rev. Dr. Willets, of Philadelphia, before the Bethel Lodge course last Tuesday evening. The Doctor has a warm, sunshiny nature, brimming over with kindness and good cheer, a pleasant voice and magnetic manner, and he shed "sunshine" over his audience as he revealed his "secret of a happy life." His idea was that happiness springs out from the heart, is in no way dependent upon outward circumstances or surroundings, and this fact he demonstrated in numberless ways, and by anecdote and story which often convulsed the audience with laughter.

The S. S. class of J. S. Crosby surprised him at his residence on Mystic street Thursday evening last, and after passing an enjoyable evening, enlivened by conversation and supper, Mr. Har'N Swan, in behalf of the class, presented an elegant silver ice pitcher, suitably engraved. Mr. C. thanked the class in a few words, expressive of his surprise and pleasure.

Team Stolen—Last Monday evening, Mr. Fred Marsh, of Winchester, left his team standing in front of the residence of Mr. Amos Adams on Arlington avenue, and when he went for it, found it gone. It is presumed it was stolen not far from six o'clock. As yet no traces of it have been discovered.

Mr. Asa Durgin has purchased the ice-privilege and nine houses on Little Spy Pond, and will cut his ice there as soon as it is suitable. He is now engaged in making the needed repairs.

The almost entire absence of snow this winter will make the following facts of interest. In the winter of 1873 there were ninety days/sleighing; 1874, thirty-four days; 1875, seventy-one days; 1876, six days; 1877, sixty-two days.

Twenty-five Years Ago This Week

Mr. Theodore Schwamb started Wednesday, January 28, for Winter Haven, Fla., where he will join his brother, Frederick, and wife of Chicago. They intend to stop in this sunny climate until spring.

Wednesday, Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Leeds of Bartlett avenue, sailed from East Boston on the Winifredian, for England, where they will be located for several months.

About forty young people appeared in costume at the "Poverty Party" given by the Y. P. C. U. at the vestry of the Universalist church, Friday evening of last week. It was a hard task to decide which impersonation best illustrated the feelings of the time, but after much deliberation, Hollis Gott was given first prize for gentlemen, and Flossie Harwood for the ladies. The judges were Mr. O. B. Marston, Mr. Connors of Lynn, Rev. H. F. Foster. The committee having the party in charge was composed of Miss Edith Fowle, Miss Flossie Harwood, Miss Ethel Butterfield.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Partridge attended the dinner and annual reunion of the Vermont Association, of which Mr. Partridge is a member, held at the Hotel Vendome, Boston, on Wednesday evening.

Listen for the deep, rich tones of the Baptist bell, which it is expected will break the Sabbath stillness for the first time from the bell deck in the tower of the new First Baptist church of Arlington. This valuable acquisition and finishing touch to the new church is the gift of Mrs. H. H. Kohlisaat of Chicago. The only child of Mr. E. Nelson Blake of Arlington. The bell was received in Arlington by freight on Tuesday and preparations for hoisting it to its belfry home in the church tower, were in progress as we were preparing to go to press, and, if all goes as planned, it will send out its message of reminder and call to worship on Sunday.

FOURTH VICTORY FOR A. H. S. BASKETBALL TEAM

In a hard fought basketball game on Friday evening of last week, in the High school gymnasium, the High school team defeated the Worcester Commerce team by a score of 28 to 21. While Arlington held the lead all through the game, the visitors came along fast in the last period. This, the fourth victory for the local boys, was witnessed by a large number. It is to be regretted that there is not adequate seating capacity in the gymnasium for those who wish to witness the contests.

On the opening whistle, Driscoll snapped the ball to Dohahue, who tossed it to "Lefty" Lowder for the first tally, which came inside half a minute after the game started. From then on Arlington played with confidence. The Worcester boys covered up well and evidently had been scouting the local boys, for they kept after them all the way through the game. Epstein was the individual star for the Worcester team. To pick an outstanding player for the Arlington team would be a hard thing to do, for our boys played a great team-work game. The first half ended 16 to 3 in favor of Arlington. Worcester had saved itself for the final half, which for a time looked as if they might win the game.

There were times when the fans were fairly out of their seats watching the very fast play. The two teams were evenly matched.

CLEAN SWEEP FOR A. H. S. GIRLS' BASKETBALL TEAM

Seniors, Juniors and Sophomores Win Respective Games Against
Wellesley H. S. on Jan. 20

On Friday afternoon, January 20, our High School girls cleaned up three games from Wellesley High on the local High school gym floor. Wellesley shifted its line many times in their effort to put the game over, but all to no avail. The seniors and juniors left little doubt in the minds of those who watched the game, as to which had the better team. The sophomore score was a little closer. The story is told as follows:

SPORT TIPS

Basketball games for next week are: This (Friday) evening the team goes to Manchester, N. H.; Feb. 11, Salem High comes here; Feb. 18, the team goes to Gloucester for a return game with Gloucester High.

Why not a movement to enlarge the gym by extending it in the rear and putting in a gallery?

The High school ice hockey sextet was forced to cancel another game, this one scheduled to be played with Everett on Monday, at Arlington. While the M. S. A. rink has been set up, there has not been enough cold weather to make the ice safe. Winter is not over, however. There is likely to be ice before spring comes.

The ice hockey fans revived their pep the latter part of last week when the weather turned cold, making it possible to play the game.

The Arlington Boys' Club is making basketball history. How about a post-season game between the Boys' Club and the High school five? This would make excitement for the fans.

Lanterns were placed near the dangerous places on Hill's Pond last week as a precaution against accidents. Officer Higgins, guards the children during the day as far as he is able to do so.

If all the games of basketball for the remainder of the season are as easy as that of Wednesday afternoon of last week against Winchester, the Arlington High team has little to worry about. The game ended with Arlington 45 and Winchester 22. In the game, William Lowder piled up 14 points, McNamara, 10 and Dohahue 11. Capt. Ross was the point maker for Winchester, his tally being 12 points.

ARLINGTON HOCKEY TEAM WINS FROM CONCORD

The Arlington Hockey team went to Concord Sunday, and won from the Concord town team by a score of 3 to 1. John Buckley tallied two of the goals for Arlington, and Lane, one. The score:—

ARLINGTON: Proctor, rw; Buckley, c; Lane, lw; Shea, rd; Crowley, ld; Good, wing k.
CONCORD: Johnson, lw; Arkin, c; Thompson, rw; Crosby, ld; Brandell, rd; Abbott, wing k.
Score: Arlington 3, Concord 1. Goals, made by Buckley 2, Lane, Thompson, Referee, Swarthfield. Time, three 19m periods.

ON THE ALLEYS

Knights of Columbus

The matches in the Arlington Council, Knights of Columbus League, rolled Thursday evening of last week on the Arlington and Regent Alleys, were for the most part close. The St. Patricks are still holding out at top place in the league standing. Capt. of the Auctioneers was the high man of the evening, his single string of 131 and three-string total of 325 being the best performance. The matches resulted as follows:—Wacos won three from the Fillers; Old Timers won three from the Brokers; St. Patricks split, two and two with the Elcos; Macks won three from the Bruins; Pelkys won three from the Spares; Associates won three from the Heaphies; Lakeviews won three from the Fusilliers, and the Auctioneers won four from the Zevs.

M. S. A.—Newton League

Nothing seems to be able to stop the winning streak of the Middlesex Sportsman's Association team in the Newton League, and while some large scores are being made each week, the records established by the M. S. A. are still holding good. The team is at the top of the league.

Suburban League

The Arlington team, while having had some rough sledding of late, is still holding onto top place in the Suburban League. With the season well advanced, it looks as if they would finish the champions.

Community Club

The second half of the season in the Community Club league, now in progress, seems to lack interest among the bowlers. The teams are not filled. It is discouraging to the committee to have only one, two or three show up on a team on the night the bowling is scheduled.

Telephone League

Not much has been said of late regarding the Telephone League, but the young ladies are still practicing for their matches, which come later in the season. There are several good rollers in the local office. The young women making up the team feel that they can take the count of any other woman's team in this section.

Union Church League

The matches in the Union Church League, rolled last Monday evening on the Arlington Alleys, provided plenty of excitement for the various teams. Ivers of the Calvary Methodist team put up a new three string mark with 358 and his 130 for a single string was the best performance of the evening. The matches resulted as follows:—Davis' Best of the Heights Baptist church won three points from the Church of Our Saviour (Episcopal); Calvary Methodist took four from the First Universalist; A. F. G. Brotherhood of the Heights Baptist Church won three from the Heights Congregational, and the Heights Methodist won three from the Orthodox Congregational.

ENSIGN FOREST IS AWARDED SCHOLARSHIPS

News was received here this week that Ensign Francis X. Forest has been awarded a year's scholarship in Annapolis Naval Academy and a two years' scholarship in Tech. He is one of six officers chosen for this privilege.

Ensign Forest, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. H. Forest of 12 Lewis avenue, entered Annapolis after finishing his course in the Arlington High School, and graduated in 1926. After his graduation he was stationed for some time at San Diego, California. Since December he has been in Boston Harbor on the destroyer, King, and has been able to visit frequently the Arlington home of his parents. He expects soon to sail aboard the King for Havana, where he will be for three months. At the end of that time he will begin his post-graduate course at Annapolis.

ANOTHER VICTORY FOR A. H. S. BASKETBALL TEAM

The High school basketball team scored its sixth victory of the season on Tuesday afternoon, by defeating the Winthrop High school team by a score of 41 to 12. The Winthrop team had been highly rated, but after Arlington got going there was not much to the game; in fact, the last period was played by members of the second string team. In the opening period the score stood 10 to 2 in favor of Arlington, and at the end of the first half, 22 to 6 in favor of the local boys. In the third period Arlington run the score up to 32 to 9. As the last period was played by the second team, Winthrop made some headway. Anderson, centre of the Winthrop team, was the outstanding player of that team. His tally for the game was seven of the 12 points. Joe Donahue piled up 13 points for A. H. S. Driscoll and Capt. McNamara each contributed nine. Winthrop showed no team play; in fact played a listless game after the score began to be piled up against them.

The second team of the High school won its game against Winthrop second, by a score of 19 to 7, in what was a more interesting game than that played by the first teams.

MARSTERS TO HURDLE IN NEW ENGLAND A. A. U. MEET SATURDAY

Alton K. Marsters, a product of A. H. S. Athletic Association, who, however, has been Dartmouth's great halfback on the varsity football team, will appear in a new role Saturday night in Mechanics Hall, when he bids for the New England A. A. U. title in the 45-yard high hurdles. George C. Carens, waiting for the Boston Transcript, says that "while the Arlington boy is not expected to outfoot his teammate, Capt. E. Montgomery Wells, there will be interest nevertheless in the hurdling debut of one of the most sensational sophomores, halfbacks ever seen in the East."

Our "Doc" McCarty says that "He has the build to clear the hurdles well," and when he smoothes out his great strength will be a tremendous asset. He can bring his right leg down over the hurdle like a flash, and with the sort of competition that he will receive in running with Monty Wells, it is "Doc's" opinion that Marsters will soon rank among the best hurdlers in the college ranks.

All sport writers agree that he will face a trying role on Saturday, after his spectacular playing on the gridiron, but they believe "he has poise that will enable him to carry out his new assignment with éclat."

Tax Reduction Civic And Personal Duty

Ogden L. Mills, Undersecretary of United States Treasury, says that "the tax problem in the United States today is no longer one of federal, but rather of state and municipal finance."

We have all been gratified with the continued reduction in the cost of running the Federal Government, but it is not yet generally realized that so fast have the expenses of state and municipal government increased that they have consumed all the Federal Government has saved. Mr. Mills states that, as a matter of fact, our total taxes in 1926 were higher than any preceding year, with the exceptions of 1920 and 1921, and but comparatively little lower than in the record high year, 1920. During 1926, Federal taxes were 1,488 millions lower than in 1921. And at the same time state and local taxes were 1,415 millions higher. In other words, local tax expenditures offset Federal economy.

Such statistics as these leave no need for comment—they speak fluently for themselves. The voters have absolute control over the municipal and state governments and they can effect a reform. Action and not words will count. Tax reduction is a civic and personal duty, and the great instrument of the vote should be used to that end.

A. STORRS & BEMENT CO. MOVE

A Storrs & Bement Company, paper merchants for eighty years, opened their new quarters at 282 Congress

Arlington Woman's Club

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 2

Every member of the Arlington Woman's Club should be interested in the public schools and therefore will extend a warm welcome to Professor Albert K. Fretwell, of Teachers' College, Columbia University, when he comes to speak to us on Thursday, February 2. His subject is "The Social Organization of the Modern Public School," and he will treat it in a highly practical manner, emphasizing how to get results by applying the educational principles he advocates.

In connection with the lecture there will be exhibits in the two corridors of the Town Hall, of work from the departments of art, manual training, household arts, and special classes of the Arlington schools. This meeting will be open to all those on the waiting list.

Club women of the seventh district will meet for their annual department conference in the Watertown senior high school, corner of Columbia and Common streets, Tuesday, January 31, at ten o'clock. Mrs.
Bert S. Currier of the Arlington Woman's Club, seventh district, will preside.

At 12:30, luncheon will be served in the Methodist church nearby. Reservations for this should be made with Mrs. Rena M. Fancie, 58 Marion road, Watertown, as soon as possible.

Watertown cars run frequently from Harvard square, and reach the high school in about fifteen minutes.

LADIES OF HEIGHTS CHURCH SERVE WEEKLY SUPPER

The Ladies' Aid of the Heights Methodist church last week began a series of ten weekly suppers, served at the church on Thursday evenings.
The suppers, for which only the cost of preparation is charged, are followed by a speaker and a social hour.
Mrs. James Sencabaugh, president of the Aid, and Mrs. Francis Coghlan are acting as general chairmen and the various groups are taking turns getting and serving supper.

At last week's supper the Mt. Ephraim group was in charge. The speaker of the evening was Chief of Police Thomas O. D. Urquhart. He described the growth of the police department in a manner very interesting to his hearers. Last night's supper was served by the Dorcas Group, whose chairman is Mrs. Frame, and next week the Crescent Hill Group will be in charge.

DISCUSS INNESS AND ABBEY AT KENSINGTON PARK CLUB

Members of the Kensington Park Study Club heard two interesting papers at the meeting which was held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Winifred Merrill on Jason street.
The topics were "American Art out of Doors" and "Edwin A. Abbey as a Mural Painter."

Under the first topic, Mrs. Frank Clark discussed Inness, noting the attractive, personal quality of his work, in spite of the fact that he had no preliminary training. She pointed out that Inness drew his chief inspiration from nature, and that he possessed the generalizing instinct that goes to the making of great works of art. He was a great colorist and held fast to the truth. The effect of her talk was heightened by many large prints of Inness' work, which had been loaned by the Boston Museum of Fine Arts.

Mrs. Evans, speaking on the second topic, described Abbey's work as having a classical style, being endowed with great force and dignity and showing a vivid imagination. She spoke at some length of the illustrations of the Sir Galahad story in the Boston Public Library, which were familiar to her hearers. In conclusion she said that both men sought the truth and wanted to make it live. They strove for a reality that would touch men, making them think and feel. Both, also, were endowed with a great religious instinct.

During the social hour that followed the reading of the papers, the hostess served refreshments. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Leslie E. A. Smith on Massachusetts avenue.

Miss Edith Winn of Academy street has been visiting her sister, Miss Amy Winn, in New Haven.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

—Mr. H. J. Anderson of Hillside avenue returned this week from a trip to Cleveland.

—Mr. and Mrs. Evans Minot of Westminster avenue, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, Evans, Jr.

—Friends of Mr. Arthur McPherson of Madison avenue, are glad to see that he is able to walk around now without his cane.

—Mr. H. H. Kendall, and daughter, Miss Alice Kendall, are spending the winter in Miami, Florida, as his been their custom for several years.

—Those who are taking the course of Parliamentary law with Mrs. J. Herbert Mead are finding it a most worth-while hour.

—Mrs. Wesley H. Bronson, 17 Wachuset avenue, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. W. B. Morse, of Marlborough, leave next week, Friday, for a visit in Coronado Cal., where Mrs. Bronson's brother, an officer attached to the Pacific coast destroyer fleet at San Diego, has recently purchased a home.

—Mrs. Charles H. Richert entertained at bridge Wednesday afternoon at her home on Linden street, for the benefit of the Scholarship Fund of the Woman's Club.

—Mr. Charles H. Harvey of Richardson avenue is spending ten days in Chicago on a combined business and pleasure trip.

—The Young People of the Park Avenue Congregational church, are planning to have the first Young People's dance, February 13, at Mrs. Hall's Studio, Pierce Bldg. Boston.

—The regular missionary meeting of the Women's Society of the Baptist church was held Tuesday afternoon, in the A. F. G. Brotherhood rooms at the church. Mrs. Alice Treleaven of the West End Community House was the speaker.

—The A. F. G. Brotherhood of the Heights Baptist church will hold Mothers' and Daughters' Night next Wednesday evening, February 1, at the church at 8 o'clock. A special program and speaker are being arranged for.

—The last meeting of the "Eight-to-One" Bridge Club was held Saturday evening, January 14th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Sibley of Appleton street. The first ladies' prize was won by Mrs. Harold Thompson, the first gentlemen's prize by Mr. Harold Thompson, and the consolation prize by Miss Dorothy Copp. After the distribution of prizes, refreshments were served, and a social hour followed.

—Mrs. James F. Brackett of Linden street entertained a table of bridge at the party given Tuesday afternoon at the University Club, for the benefit of Bradford Academy. Her guests were Mrs. H. J. Anderson, Mrs. Robert Ashley and Mrs. Charles H. Harvey. The ladies had luncheon together before the bridge and afterwards went to the art exhibit of the Professional Woman's Club at the Hotel Statler, where they were especially interested in the beautiful paintings exhibited by Mrs. Lewis Stickney.

—Mrs. Lewis E. Stickney is among the exhibitors of arts and craftwork being shown in the rooms of the Professional Woman's Club at Hotel Statler this week. Mrs. Stickney has some effective work in silver resist. She will be pleased to see any of her friends at the rooms, where will be found an interesting exhibition of portraits, water colors, lamps, China painting and in fact a most attractive grouping of craftwork.

—The Trefoil League of the Heights Baptist church held their annual business meeting last week Friday, January 20, at the home of Mrs. Marcia Arnold Richardson. The officers for the coming year are: president, Mrs. Marcia Arnold Richardson; secretary, Miss Phyllis M. Frost; treasurer, Miss Eleanor M. Maynard. At the close of the business meeting Miss Margaret Macaulay of Dorchester gave some entertaining readings.

—Friends of Mrs. C. Frederick Evans will be interested to know that she will return from a concert tour through the Middle West next Sunday, January 29. Mrs. Evans, who is known professionally as Dorothy Clements Evans, has been accompanying Mrs. Stella Marek Cushing, violinist, and for the month of January they have been giving concerts in and about Chicago, with the Open Forum Bureau. They have travelled from Newark, N. J., to Minneapolis, and on Wednesday of this week they were in the latter city, which is the former home of Mr. Evans. Mr

Evans' father and sister entertained them. Not only was the trip and concert program enjoyed to the utmost, but Mrs. Evans renewed acquaintance with classmates from Boston University, many of whom she had not seen since graduating.

—A large attendance of members and friends, were present at the Heights Study Club, Tuesday afternoon at Hambury hall. Mrs. Walter J. Vaughn was in charge of the meeting, and took as her subject, "Jean Baptiste Rousseau," the ninth of the pivotal figures of history which the club is studying this year. The program also included musical numbers by Miss Phyllis Blake, accompanied by Miss Ruth D. Bellows and piano solos by Mrs. E. L. Shinn. During the social hour following, tea was served by Mrs. Harold T. Canfield and her committee.

—The members of the Arlington Heights Baptist church are rejoicing in the completion of the renovations to their church building. It has been in the process of construction since last summer, and during the weeks that have intervened the members of the church have been subjected to many inconveniences, which, however, are all forgotten in the realization of their hopes. The new heating plant now installed in the cellar, has given larger accommodations in the Sunday school room. An enlarged kitchen also will add materially to the efficiency of that department of church work.

—The host of friends of Mrs. George A. Clark will sympathize with her in the death of her mother, Mrs. George H. Cowden, who passed away on Monday, January 23, at the latter's home, 27 Packard avenue, West Somerville, aged eighty-two years. The funeral was held Wednesday of this week, and burial was in the Cambridge cemetery. The father of Mrs. Clark was a well known physician of Somerville. He passed away some years ago. Besides Mrs. Clark, the deceased is survived by a son, Mr. Fred Cowden, with whom her mother made her home. The family has been identified with Somerville for nearly sixty years.

—Mr. Frank Zelck, who has been confined to his home on Forest street, with a severe cold, is able to be out again.

Deaths

MRS. MARY E. BUTLER

Mrs. Mary E. Butler, widow of Thomas Butler, died at her home, 103 Park avenue, Thursday, January 19th, following an illness that has extended over quite a period of years.

The family has long been identified with Arlington Heights, where they have resided for over forty years. Previous to building the home on Park avenue, where Mrs. Butler passed away, the family made Arlington Heights their summer home so that they were well known among the long time residents of the hill.

While never caring for public recognition of her charities, the deceased was known to have given liberally of her means and many have been the recipients of her bounty. The Marycliff Academy was one institution in which she was interested and she established a permanent scholarship fund for the benefit of a worthy pupil, the prize to be awarded each year.

Mrs. Butler, who was in her 78th year at the time of her death, was born in Boston, the daughter of Daniel and Elizabeth White McDavitt. She is survived by three daughters and one son, Mr. Butler, who was a well known business man of Boston, was deceased several years ago.

The funeral took place on Monday morning. A solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated in St. James' church, with Rev. Dr. Maurice J. O'Connor, celebrant; Rev. James P. Sherry, deacon; and Rev. James Daley of Marycliff Academy, sub-deacon. The mass was attended by a very large number of neighbors and friends of the family. Musical sections were sung by William F. Kelley and Mrs. Mary Quinn Delany, Mrs. George E. Bonney being the organist. Many very beautiful floral tributes were banked about the casket.

The bearers were James F. Burke, John F. Burke, Thomas F. Maguire, Robert J. Clark, James E. Butler, John Lyons, Arthur O'Leary and James O'Leary. Burial was in Holy Cross Cemetery, Malden.

ANNUAL ROLL CALL SUPPER HAS RECORD ATTENDANCE

The annual roll call and supper of the Heights Baptist church, held Thursday evening, January 19, proved a happy one for not only was it well attended, some one hundred and fifty being present, but it was the first big event in the newly renovated church. Supper was served by a committee made up as follows: Mrs. Fred McBay, chairman; Mrs. Margaret Hoffmann; Mrs. Alice Maynard; Mrs. Robert Champlain and Mrs. Joseph Ohlund. Special music was provided by the church male quartet, Mr. Charles Wharton, Mr. William Jones, Mr. George Stevens and Mr. William Woodbury.

Community singing, in charge of Mr. George Stevens, was participated in by those present.

Reports were given by officers and chairmen of committees and showed the past year to be a fruitful one. At the calling of the roll, not only did the members respond with brief remarks and other appropriate manifestations, but some with solos and duets.

On Sunday the annual Church Family day was observed, and also marked the beginning of the eighth year of service of Rev. and Mrs. R. J. Davis in this pastorate. The church was packed and as has been the custom, the families sat together. Mrs. George Stevens was the soloist, and filled that position with much acceptance, for her musical talent is appreciated.

WILL INSTALL UNIVERSALIST MINISTER SUNDAY EVENING

The public installation of the Rev. R. R. Hadley as pastor of the First Universalist church and service of reception will be held next Sunday evening at seven o'clock in the church.

Rev. John Smith Lowe, D. D., who returns this week from a speaking tour in the west, will deliver the sermon. Rev. Harold Marshall, D. D., who has been prominent in the forum movement, will give the charge to the minister and Rev. Geo. E. Huntley, D. D., the charge to the parish. Greetings from the local churches will be brought by Rev. John N. Mark, minister of the First Parish Congregational (Unitarian) church.

MISS HUNTER TALKS ON "ELECTRICITY" AT ST. AGNES' COURT, C. D. OF A. MEETING

At the regular meeting of St. Agnes Court, C. D. of A., held on Monday evening in G. A. R. Hall, considerable business of interest was discussed and disposed of. Grand Regent Clancy appointed her various committees for the year at this time, and read her report of what had been accomplished the past year. The Court voted to have bowling teams among the members.

After the meeting, Lecturer Josephine Frazer introduced Miss Sarah Hunter of the Edison Electric and Illuminating Co., who gave a most interesting talk on "Electricity."

Following the lecture, Miss Irene Tafe sang, accompanied on the piano by her sister, Miss Helen Tafe, and Miss Marion Cameron gave readings.

The Samaritan Society will hold a "Thimble and Experience" party in the Universalist Parish House next Monday afternoon. Each member will tell in rhyme how she earned a dollar. The afternoon will be spent in sewing or in playing cards. Tea will be served.

KIWANIS NEWS

Kiwanis International was thirteen years old January 21. Its birth-place was in Detroit, in 1915. From one club the service organization has grown until at present there are 1670 clubs, with a membership of over 100,000. Kiwanis clubs are located all over the United States and Canada.

Because of the significance of the event, all Kiwanians observed what was officially known as Anniversary Week during the week of January 15-21.

In discussing the thirteen years of Kiwanis history, Henry C. Heinz, of Atlanta, Georgia, president of the organization, stressed the importance of those early leaders who made it possible for Kiwanis to form its objects and objectives, which include the aiding of the underprivileged child, the creating of a better understanding between the farmer and city man, and the work of maintaining a sound public opinion and a more intelligent citizenship for considering problems of national and international interest.

"Through the past thirteen years, Kiwanis has developed an efficient organization, through its International, district and club units," the Kiwanis president remarked. "With this machinery, with worthy objects and challenging objectives, we should all strive to make Kiwanis greater during the coming year."

"We may well look back upon the past with pardonable pride. Our present is commanding. Our future holds forth prospects for greater service and usefulness. Our organization will continue to prosper as Kiwanis answers the needs of the times in developing individuals, contributing to community progress, and creating International leadership."

Arlington has a wide-awake club, made up of young men who are endeavoring to make their club an instrument for creating that spirit of brotherly love and cooperation, which will promote the best interests of the town.

At its meeting held yesterday in the Middlesex Sportsman's Association club-house, John Laycock of the School of Expression and Dramatic Art, was the guest. Miss Cohen, a pupil in the school, entertained with readings. President L. Brooks Saville presided.

TO DEPICT PROGRESS OF AMERICAN LEGION

Posters depicting the progress of the American Legion during the first decade of its life will appear on the bill boards of Arlington for the whole month beginning February. It was announced today by H. A. Publicover, commander of Post No. 39, of the American Legion. Arrangements have been made for the use of the bill board space there during the month in order that the ideals and aims of the Legion may be placed before the people of the town, according to the commander.

The posters will depict in a vivid way the real spirit of the Legion. Commander Publicover said, "They will be symbolic of the Legion ideal of service to the country in peace time as in war, which the Legion is carrying out in its community service, Americanism, political education, child welfare and similar activities."

The poster has been made up from a sketch drawn especially for the Legion by Chester A. Bratten, a well known artist of Chicago. It has a decorative background in which the main figure is the Goddess of Liberty standing with arms uplifted in consecration of the sacrifices made by the fighting men of America in the World War. In the foreground is a panoramic scene depicting the city, agriculture and industry. At the top is the name "American Legion" and at the bottom the slogan, "In peace, as in war—we serve."

Similar posters will be displayed in almost every city and town in America during February to give national emphasis to the service which the Legion is now rendering to the community, state and nation. Commander Publicover stated. More than 17,000 of the posters are being sent out from National Headquarters of the Legion at Indianapolis to be posted throughout the country. The Arlington Post will begin an intensive membership campaign which will reach its climax during the month. The posters are on the boards, Commander Publicover announced.

Gentlemen Change—Sometimes

By MARTHA M. WILLIAMS

(Copyright.)

"I SHALL marry, of course—but not until I find the woman to suit," Gardner declared loftily, rising, tiptoe, then coming down hard on his heels by way of emphasis.

"I wonder what sort that is?" Sarah Ann commented reflectively, twinkling wickedly withal.

"Not your sort! You can give any odds you please on that," from the gentleman.

"Luckily, that goes without saying I can't imagine worse luck than marrying you myself."

"Hence we are agreed to agree—which is much harder than agreeing to disagree," from Gardner patronizingly.

Sarah Ann nodded carelessly. Jimmy, her step-cousin, wasn't a bad sort except for his conceit. She got up saying, "Suppose we appoint today a year for confessing? Our sins, our loves, our mistakes, our deeds, good and bad?"

Next minute he saw her galloping down the ragged drive; waving her cap high above her head. It angered him—she knew how he hated tomboys and their works. Neither sister, wife nor daughter of his should indulge in anything so crude.

Jimmy, born with an indoor complex as befitted his fine estate, hated hunting and barely tolerated horse shows. Yet, somehow he couldn't keep away from them when Sarah Ann and Blue Jeans, her favorite blue roan, led the entries.

What a girl she would be—if only he could make her over! The pity of it was that she wouldn't be thus remade. He said as much to young Preston, his visiting college mate, before risking him within Sarah Ann's orbit. The encounter went through with bells on—to Gardner's delight. Preston didn't talk much, unless you noticed his eyes. His stay was brief—before the last good by he asked Jimmy airily: "How many deep is Cousin Sarah Ann engaged?" As sure that was something no fellow had yet found out, he went off laughing.

The day of confession still lay six months ahead. Gardner found himself wishing it were at hand, but dared not say so. He realized that Sarah Ann grew steadily more daring, more altogether delightful. As to Preston she was merely judgmental, saying with her best twinkle: "Decision reserved." So he almost ran to her after Preston's letter came. It said: "I'm marrying shortly—don't know just when. My girl, confound her, refuses to set the day until sure it will be lucky. You'll see us in the honeymoon—know you'll like her, and hope, between us, we can make her like you. Here's hoping to find the latest string out and brothers sinfully plenty—but don't go planning any blow-out—all on the dead quiet until you see me."

"You don't see—bit surprised," Gardner was almost plaintive.

Sarah Ann smiled and nodded. "Because I am not," she said. "I know he was engaged—he told me right at the first. In such a funny way—you know we three went riding and he kept looking, looking at Blue Jeans until I had to say something—it was 'I think you want my horse—but you can't have him.' 'Oh! I must,' he said. 'I need him for my wife—only creature I've ever seen that just suited her.' Then I asked was he married—he said, no, only engaged—he had come down here to find out how comfortable, he could live without her. That stopped the cross-questioning, but made me like him all the better. I hope he is going to very happy."

"I'll tell him so—know it will please him," Gardner bubbled.

Sarah Ann answered: "Maybe so," and changed the subject. Gardner felt hurt at her indifference, and said semi-authoritatively: "See here. You must be nice to the bride."

"I shall be if she behaves real nice," quoth Sarah Ann, rising, to add: "Can't talk longer now—got to be fitted for a new dress."

Jimmy did not see her again until three days later—then a gorgeous new limousine disgorged upon his door step a wholly radiant Preston and a slim something so veiled and swathed it appeared wholly strange. Preston thrust it almost violently into Gardner's arms, bubbling out: "Kiss her, Jimmy, I won't mind. We're old married folks now—got the knot tied an hour ago in town."

Then out of veils and swathings burst the surprise of Gardner's life—a happily chuckling Sarah Ann, who kissed him on both cheeks, then full on the mouth.

"This saves confessing," she said, giggling. "I knew Dan Preston for my man the minute I set eyes on him. He truly was engaged elsewhere—but seeing me on Blue Jeans put the girl he left behind him in the discard. Her picture's mighty pretty, and she's conventured and rich and a lady. Just the wife for you, Jimmy—you are going home with us to see for your self."

"Who says so?" Gardner demanded. "Both of us," cried the newly-weds in unison. "Hop in and come right along—clothes can be sent after—besides, you'll shortly need spandy-new ones."

Who could gainsay such command? Nobody. Jimmy didn't try it. At last accounts life ran blissfully for him—and seemed likely to do so to the end.

METROPOLITAN THEATRE

Greater Boston men had better keep their hands on their pocket-books next week. Lorelei, champion gold-digger of the ages, is coming to town! Lorelei is the wide-eyed, duffy little flapper whose inimitable diary was opened for all to read when Anita Loos wrote her now-famous satire, "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes." And now Paramount has made it into a motion picture comedy which will be the feature attraction next week at the Metropolitan theatre. Lorelei is played by Ruth Taylor, former Mack Sennett comedienne who was picked from hundreds of candidates for one of the biggest roles in the history of the movies. Other notable players assembled in a truly "all-star" cast are Ford Sterling, Trixie Friganza, Chester Conklin, Mack Swain, Alice White, Emily Fitzroy and Holmes Herbert. Gene Rodemich and the Famous Metropolitan Stage Band are presenting "Dancing Feet," a Paul Oskar production, which traces the history of the dance as its theme. An Arthur Mariel organ solo, a news reel and other short screen subjects will complete the program. Starting Friday, Feb. 23, according to the management's announcement, the weekly change of program, both stage and screen, will take place on Friday instead of on Saturday, as in the past.

—Mrs. Nathan Robbins was installed as senior vice-president of Tent 76. Daughters of Veterans, a week ago last Friday night. Her name was omitted from the account of the installation by mistake. The guard is Maud Solomon and color bearer four, Florence Solomon.

Soft finish, durably constructed, safe. Three heats, all controlled by a handy switch button. Replaces the messy, quickly-cooling, bothersome hot water bottle. Convenient warmth for aches and pains.

Deaths

FRANK B. DAVIS

Frank B. Davis, of 11 Scituate street, died Monday morning in the hospital at Colon, Panama Canal Zone. Mr. Davis, who was chief engineer on the steamship Andrea of the Luckenbach Steamship Company, was taken ill on his way back from the Pacific coast and was removed to the hospital when the boat reached Colon.

Mr. Davis was born in Dorchester forty-six years ago, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Davis. He came to Arlington with his family seven years ago, having previously made his home in New Orleans. He is survived by his wife, by his daughter, Mary, by his parents, who now live in Hill, N. H., and by a sister, Miriam, also of Hill.

Elwyn L. R. Perry, who has been a resident of Arlington since forty-three years ago last October, passed away January 24th, at his home, 223 Mystic street, in his seventy-ninth year, after an illness of fourteen weeks. He was born in Roxbury, July 29th, 1849, the son of Abbie Webber and C. Cushman Perry.

For nearly fifty years Mr. Perry was a member of the firm of Howard W. Spurr & Company, of Boston, being associated with the late H. B. Pierce of this town, and Howard W. Spurr, now of Edgartown. Mr. Spurr, Mr. Pierce and Mr. Perry were for years well known in the business world, and when the head of the firm, Mr. Spurr, decided to retire from active business, Mr. Perry also severed his connection, and for fourteen years has been the tea buyer for A. H. Bill Company of Boston.

While not associated with any fraternal organizations, he was a man of large acquaintance, because of his affable and courteous manner. He was a splendid neighbor and friend, and a devoted husband and father.

The funeral will be held today, Friday, at 2 o'clock, from the undertaking parlor of L. Brooks Saville. The devotional services will be conducted by Dr. Frederic Gill, minister emeritus of the First Parish (Unitarian) church. The interment will be in Mt. Auburn Cemetery.

Besides his wife, Emma J. Dunlap Perry, the deceased is survived by four children, Mrs. Evelyn F. Bahnsen, of Perris, California; Elwyn L. R. Perry, Jr., of Somerville; Mrs. Mabel H. Fay, of Philadelphia; A. Basil Perry, of Sanford, Me., and also seven grandchildren.

ARLINGTON LOCALS

Next Friday evening the regular family supper will be held at the First Universalist church.

Robert F. Needham spent Sunday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Needham, on Everett place.

Members of the Middlesex G. A. R. hold their meeting today in G. A. R. Hall. The Arlington Relief Corps serves dinner for them at noon.

The friends of Miss Gertrude Morris of Surry road enjoyed hearing her broadcast from station WLOE on last Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Richmond of 100 Gray street, Arlington are at the Hotel Pennsylvania, New York City, for the week.

Illustrated lectures on "Abraham Lincoln" will be given at the Unitarian Church on Sunday evenings, February 5 and 12.

Scoutmaster Wright took the boys of Troop Seven to South Boston last Saturday afternoon, to see the airplane carrier Lexington.

Mr. and Mrs. William V. Taintor of Highland avenue, left on Sunday morning for West Palm Beach, where they will spend two months. The trip was made via automobile.

Wednesday evening, January 18, Miss Edith Starky entertained the members of the Merced Club at their regular meeting at her home, 26 Lakehill avenue.

A public patriotic meeting will be held under the auspices of the Women's Relief Corps, at G. A. R. Hall on Thursday evening, February 9, at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Grace Dwellley Curry holds her second assembly for High School students and young people home from prep schools, in the Town Hall, Saturday evening, February fourth.

Dr. and Mrs. Perley W. Prosser of Corte Madera, Calif., are receiving congratulations on the birth of their second daughter, Doris Elizabeth, on Jan. 10th. Mrs. Prosser was formerly Miss Helen Richards of Arlington.

The Y. P. C. U. of the Universalist church held its regular monthly business meeting Wednesday evening at the home of Ernest Hesselstine, Jr., on Russell street. A social hour followed the business meeting.

Members of the cast of Hiawatha and all those who assisted in its production have received invitations to an informal tea, which will be given by the president of the Woman's Club, Mrs. A. A. Lawson, at her home on Ravine street on the eleventh of February.

About a hundred Arlington women attended a luncheon given at the Food Craft Shops in the Thorndike Building on Boylston street, Saturday noon, for the benefit of the Boy Scouts. Many of them stayed to play bridge in the afternoon.

A social hour with games and refreshments followed the regular meeting of the Longfellow Chapter, O. E. S., which was held Tuesday evening. Mrs. Marion Stewart had charge of the refreshments and Mrs. Jessie Simmons of the games.

At the regular meeting of the executive board of the Hospital Afl, which was held last Friday, Mrs. Walter Wyman reported that almost two hundred dollars was cleared on the bridge at which Mr. Milton Work appeared. Not only was there a large attendance, but many who were unable to go sent money.

Rev. Rubens Rea Hadley, minister of the First Universalist church of this town, conducted the funeral services of Henry A. Lothrop of Lexington, Thursday afternoon of this week, at his late home. Mr. Hadley was minister of the church in Everett, which Mr. Lothrop attended when he lived there.

Mr. and Mrs. William D. Elwell were called to New Rochelle, N. Y., this week, on the death of Mrs. Elwell's aunt, Mrs. Lovejoy. She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Eleanor B. Hills and Miss Esther Babson, of 11 Bartlett avenue. Friends of the family remember Mrs. Lovejoy very pleasantly, when in years past she made frequent visits to Arlington.

Mrs. Edwin P. Stickney goes to New York tomorrow, to join her sister, Mrs. Arthur L. Livermore, of Yonkers, N. Y., both of whom leave that city on Sunday for Cuba. They go to Florida and from there to Cuba. Mrs. Stickney will be joined on Saturday by her younger daughter, Miss Rebecca Stickney, who is the assistant editor of Harpers Bazaar.

Several Arlington members of Tent 76, Daughters of Veterans, and their friends attended the whist party which was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Mable Hill, 1743 Massachusetts avenue, Cambridge. Proceeds from these parties, which are held each week, will be used to finance the birthday party of the organization, the last of February.

The house owned by Cosmo Caterino at the corner of Central street and Mass. avenue, recently damaged by fire, is being torn down to make way for a business block. The narrowness of Central street, and the erection of a block of stores at the corner will not lessen the traffic problem at that point, especially on Central street.

A still alarm was sent in to the fire department Wednesday afternoon for a tree which was on fire in the parkway near the cemetery.

A grass fire at Orchard place Wednesday afternoon, spread to the house owned and occupied by Michael D. Powers and resulted in calling out the fire department. But little damage was done to the house.

Mrs. William M. Peppard entertained the Bethel Sewing Circle of the Ida F. Butler Lodge of Rebekahs at an all day meeting Wednesday at her home, 937 Massachusetts avenue. It was decided to have a business men's dinner and an Easter sale, the proceeds to be used to establish a relief fund. The day was spent sewing and at noon the hostess served a delicious dinner.

tribute to the calibre of boys that have been on his teams. Daniel E. Murphy, well known letter carrier, contributed songs and recitations and Francis DeCeles, D. D. S. K. of this district, spoke on the K. of C. Athletic meet and council matters in general.

"Nick" Madonna of Lexington gave a talk on "fistic activities," outlining coming bouts, in which he is to take part next month.

The coming selective drive of the council was spoken of. Within the next few weeks, young men of the town eligible for membership will be invited to come into the council. There will also be a drive for members of other councils who reside in this town to join the local council.

The evening closed with a collation.

SURPRISE PARTY IS GIVEN TO MISS WIER

Twenty relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mrs. W. H. Lantz, 18 Farrington street, on Tuesday evening, for a farewell party to Miss Ivona M. Wier, who has been spending the winter with her aunt. It was a pleasant surprise to Miss Wier to return from a visit and find the group, many of whom were friends made since coming to Arlington. No inkling of another surprise was given until later in the evening, when George E. Lantz of Cambridge, with an appropriate speech, presented, in behalf of the guests present, farewell gifts including money in gold and pretty and useful articles.

The evening was spent with music and games. Miss Doris MacEwen secured the piano accompaniment for the singing. Miss Alice G. Dickie of Malden entertained with an exhibition of the Charleston.

A collation was served in the dining room, which was decorated in red and white, and Valentine novelties, carried out with crepe paper, candles and novelty favor cups.

Miss Wier left on Thursday for her home in Scotch Village, Nova Scotia, where she will remain a week and then take up a course of studies at the Normal College at Truro, N. S.

The guests were from Arlington, Cambridge, Medford, Malden and Revere.

NEW FRIGIDAIRE BRANCH

The Frigidaire distributors for New England have established a sales and service branch in Malden which will greatly benefit the people of Arlington. This branch is located in the Rotary Building at 14 South Washington street. Frigidaire is the electric refrigerator made by General Motors.

Our desire to locate a display room convenient to all the northern communities caused us to take this step, said M. P. Ford, manager of the branch. We will carry practically a full line of Frigidaire products, and engineers will be available to determine whether the customer's own ice box can be equipped with Frigidaire. It is also our plan to invite occasionally various women's organizations into our display room. So winless demonstrations in freezing desserts and salads. We want the people of Arlington to use all the facilities this branch can offer. We will be open until 9 P. M. Saturdays. Frigidaire has announced this week a new line of all-steel cabinets in two color tones and new silent compressors. These are on display in the Malden Show room.

PRETTY SHOWER GIVEN TO MISS LILLIAN WHITMAN

Miss Lillian Whitman was given a miscellaneous shower Monday evening at the Albemarle avenue home of Mrs. Richard Raleigh, by the members of her Sunday school class at the First Baptist church, under the direction of Mrs. Raleigh.

The house was effectively decorated in pink and white, with bouquets of pink flowers in the living room, pink flowers on the curtains and streamers of pink crepe paper from the chandelier, each with a package at its end. In the dining room, where the delicious refreshments were served, an umbrella, covered with apple blossoms, was suspended over the table. A doll, dressed as a bride, decorated one end of the table, and the favors—pink baskets filled with candy, carried out the color scheme effectively. The evening was spent in music and games.

Miss Whitman was the recipient of many lovely gifts, among them: luster ware, pictures, towels, an embroidered luncheon set and hemstitched pillowcases. Among the thirty-five guests were friends from Somerville, Cambridge, Weston and Dorchester, as well as from Arlington.

Miss Whitman's engagement to Thomas Ross of Somerville was recently announced. While no definite date has as yet been set for their wedding, it will probably take place some time in the spring.

White, 40 Ottawa road, one-family, $6,000.

Twenty gas and twenty-five plumbing permits were issued during the week.

MEN'S CLUB OF UNIVERSALIST CHURCH ADDRESSED BY W. E. LUNDQVIST

W. E. Lundqvist, chief draughtsman of the Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston, was the guest speaker at a well attended meeting of the Men's Club of the Universalist Church last Friday evening in the parish house. He traced the development of the company since 1886 and showed a film in which the new Edgar station at Weymouth was featured. Edward L. Shinn, president of the club, introduced Mr. Lundqvist.

On Saturday evening the first three assemblies in the second annual series sponsored by the club was held in the parish house. George Percy furnished the music. About forty couples, the limit set by the committee, were present. The dates for the other assemblies are February 11 and March 3.

Non-Fiction
 Edman, Irwin. Human Traits and Their Social Significance. This book presents first, an analysis of the types of behavior and second, an analysis of the four great activities of the human mind and imagination—religion, art, science, and morals.
 Gates, Arthur I. Psychology for Students of Education. A volume designed especially to meet the needs of students of education who are seeking from psychology the facts and principles that have a bearing upon their problems.
 Valentine, P. F. The Psychology of Personality. All that psychology has to teach concerning that elusive quality—personality—is set forth in this book. It will appeal to the general reader as well as to the student.
 Watson, John B. Psychology—From the Standpoint of a Behaviorist. A treatise on the newer methods in psychology known as behaviorism. The author contends that in the study of psychology the most interesting and helpful method is the study of what other human beings do and why they do it.
 McNamara, Edward J. Secretarial Training. A well organized presentation of the work of the secretary with practical problems and exercises to be worked out. The book tries to stimulate the growth of character and of those qualities which are so essential to the successful secretary.

A pageant to celebrate their 65th anniversary will be given by the Knights of Pythias at Mechanics Building in February. To include its co-workers the Pythian Sisters, Uniformed Rank, and the D. O. K. K.'s. This interesting event will be one of the greatest undertakings ever put on, and will be resplendent with beautiful uniforms and special costumes. It is expected that over two thousand will be in line. Dancing will follow the pageant. The James Ray Cole Lodge of this town have planned to participate in this event. The Brockton City Band of nearly forty pieces will furnish the music for the occasion.

"THE RUNAWAYS" TO BE GIVEN BY ARLINGTON YOUNG PEOPLE

With every indication of being one of the most elaborate and pretentious amateur theatrical events that Arlington has seen in some years, "The Runaways," the first annual musical comedy under the auspices of the Middlesex Sportsman's Association, will be presented at Town Hall next Monday and Tuesday evenings, January 30 and 31, at 8.15 o'clock.

"The Runaways," with an all-star Broadway cast, had a long run in New York and other principal cities, and was then secured for amateur production by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Philbrook of New York, who are directing its local presentation. Scores of specially designed and colorful costumes, novel scenic and electrical effects, a plot sparkling with unique comedy twists and laughter provoking situations, and a cast of characters composed of the town's popular stage stars all combine to make "The Runaways" one of the season's outstanding theatrical treats.

The Sportsman's Association committee has been fortunate in their selection of the singers, dancers and comedians for the principal parts, and leading roles will be assumed by Miss Virginia Hunt, Miss Phyllis Blake, Mrs. Trancetta Ward, Miss Dorothy G. Allen, Miss Marion Webster, Miss Margaret Cassidy, Kenneth McLeod, Herbert McReavy, Carl Carroll, Bradford Swift, Leo Sweeney, Perry Brook, Robert Sproul, Paul Corcoran, and Paul Livingstone. The Symphony Broadcasters, of Boston, will furnish the orchestral accompaniment for the play.

The singing and dancing numbers will enlist the services of the following elaborately costumed groups:

Dolly Vardons—Dorothy G. Allen, Frances Pike, Frances Goodman, Margaret L. Cassidy.

"Life Is A See Saw"—Connie Belyea, Ruth Dalton, Beatrice Hamilton, Helen Gearin, Erma MacAllister, Alice Murray, Margaret Murray, Edith Lynch, Myrtle Belyea.

FREEMAN YOUNG FOREGOES USUAL BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mr. Freeman Young passed his seventy-second birthday last Friday, but, because of his recent illness, was forced to forego the party with which he has been wont to entertain a crowd of his friends at the clubhouse of the Middlesex Sportsman's Association. Mr. Young is convalescing now and was well enough last week to attend the luncheon of the Rotary Club, where he was given a rousing welcome, so his friends hope that next year's party will be bigger and better than ever.

Mr. Young, or "Brig," as he is known to his Arlington friends, was born in Lowell and spent his early life there. He educated himself and engaged in various businesses, finally associating himself with the Moxie Company, of which he has long been an official. For many years he has made his home on Mystic street. He was one of the early presidents of the Middlesex Sportsman's Association, and is still an enthusiastic member, being known as its "father." He has always been an ardent baseball fan, and is now president of the Junior Baseball Players, 1873-74-75 Association of Massachusetts.

DOFFING THE HIGH HAT

You answer the telephone. A sweet young voice says, "Just a moment please, Mr. Schlitz wants to speak with you." You snort loudly, but to no avail. For the next few minutes you draw cubes on your desk pad. When Mr. Schlitz does come, you are probably not very cordial to him. High hats are out of place in telephoning. The few seconds saved are more than discounted by the irritation caused to the recipient of the call.

STATISTICS vs. SCIENCE

Mr. Roger W. Babson, the distinguished forecaster of financial conditions, entered a new field of prophecy in speaking at a recent Assembly Luncheon of the Boston Chamber of Commerce. His subject was "Looking Fifty Years Ahead," and the press reports of his address quote him as foreseeing many developments so extraordinary as to create the suspicion that Mr. Babson's imagination needs a four-wheel brake. Milk, if Mr. Babson is correctly reported, will be made from kerosene, and the delivery of cow's milk in Boston will be prohibited by legislation. We hesitate to advise our readers in a matter which is so directly in Mr. Babson's province, but we see in this development nothing to justify the sale of such stocks as they may hold in dairy companies.

Chemistry has accomplished wonders. It will doubtless accomplish many more, but it will never perform the miracle of changing kerosene to milk. The artificial production of milk would involve the synthesis of compounds of extraordinary complexity, such as albumen, casein, and vitamins; the combination with glycerin of eight or ten complicated organic acids to make butter fat, and the conversion of carbon, hydrogen, and oxygen into milk sugar. As Artemus Ward once said, "It is unsafe to profess unless you know."

We may further expect on the same authority, as reported, that coal will be superseded by energy derived from water so that "the householder of the future, by using a medicine dropper, will be able to fire up his furnace for a week." Perhaps the weeks will be shorter fifty years from now, otherwise, since no more energy can be derived from water than that required to effect its decomposition, the furnace will, obviously be a small one, made, perhaps, by the Waltham Watch Co.

Radium, we are told, will revolutionize industry beyond human dreams, but it is left to the rest of us to find the radium. At present it is worth about $31,750,000 a pound. The manufacture of artificial silk involves many chemical processes and much intricate machinery, but by 1977 all this is to be so simplified that we shall feed wood into one end of a machine and have dresses coming from the other. Fashions change, of course, and it may be that dresses will be simpler—something in a thin veneer, trimmed with excelsior.

Among the other wonders reported as within the range of Mr. Babson's prophetic vision but, we believe, not otherwise in sight, are the making of rain by the pressing of a button, the production of sugar from water, flexible and unbreakable glass, and metals which absorb but never radiate heat.

As a friend prominent in the petroleum industry points out, the possibility of making breakfast food from acid sludge seems to have been overlooked.

Spanish And World War Veteran Passes Away

Charles P. Ladd, Jr., Dies Suddenly At His Home on Willow Place

Friday morning, January 20th, the many friends of the family of Charles P. Ladd, Jr., were shocked to learn of his sudden death at his home, 12 Willow place. Death resulted from a shock sustained in the early morn-ing of that day. Mr. Ladd had a host of friends in not-only this town, where he was well known, but else-where, for his has been a busy and useful life, having given much of his strength to his country, which he has served honorably and well.

Born in Charlestown on Dec. 5, 1874, the son of Charles P. Ladd, the deceased lived in Arlington forty years. He attended our schools and has taken an active interest in all that pertained to the town, having served as a Town Meeting Member from his precinct. He attended every meeting. For many years he also served the town as an election offi-cer, proving himself efficient and trustworthy.

Mr. Ladd's record of four enlist-ments is probably the only one of the kind in town. He served in the navy during the Spanish-American War, with the 46th Infantry in the Philip-pines, with the 8th Massachusetts In-fantry at the Mexican Border, and with the 104th Infantry in the World War. He went overseas as a sergeant. He was in action and was invalided home, suffering from having been gassed and also the result of trench ills. He won, however, many medals for bravery.

The artist who painted the mural painting in the State House, showing the 104th Infantry colors being de-corated by the French Government, used Mr. Ladd as a model for one of his figures.

When the Arlington Post, No. 39, American Legion, was formed, Mr. Ladd became one of its charter mem-bers, and in fact one of the foremost leaders in starting the Post. He has held the office of adjutant and has also served on the executive commit-tee. He has been affiliated with Hir-am Lodge, A. F. & A. M., and of Me-notomy Royal Arch Chapter. For the past twenty-five years Mr. Ladd has been a clerk in the office of the Boston & Maine Railroad.

The funeral took place Sunday af-ternoon at 2.30. Services were held in the home, and conducted by Rev. Charles Taber Hall, rector of St. John's Episcopal church. Paul Ben-nett was the soloist. Delegations were present from Arlington Post, 39, American Legion and its Auxil-iary, Hiram Lodge, A. F. & A. M., and Menotomy Royal Arch Chapter. The flag-draped casket was escorted from the house to Mount Pleasant Cemetery by Arlington Post, 39, A. L., and upward of 100 comrades of the Post escorted the body, headed by Commander Harold A. Publicover. There were also veterans of the Span-ish War, who did escort duty. The active bearers were William C. Scan-nell, Charles J. Tynan, Arthur Pelree, John I. Colbert, Arthur Pelree, William P. Barry, Joseph Whute and Claude Elliott. At the grave three volleys were fired and taps sounded. The committal service was read by Rev. John N. Mark, pastor of the First Parish Unitarian church, chap-lain of Arlington Post, American Leg-ion.

Out of respect to the memory of Mr. Ladd, the flags on the Robbins Memorial Town Hall flag staff and at Monument Park were placed at half mast until after the funeral ex-ercises.

The deceased is survived by his father, a sister, Miss Emma Louise Ladd, and two brothers, Gerard Bruce Ladd and Howard Maynard Ladd, all of this town. The mother of the deceased died but a short time ago. The heartfelt sympathy of the townspeople goes out to the family in their double affliction.

MR. AND MRS. DOE PASS SIXTY-FOURTH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. George Irving Doe passed their 64th wedding anniver-sary on Saturday. In past years it has been their custom to welcome their friends and relatives at their home, 44 Jason street, on their anni-versary. This year because of the poor health of the couple, the day was spent quietly except for greet-ings and congratulatory messages from some of their friends.

Mr. Doe, who has had a long and interesting career, was born in Par-sonsfield, Maine, on the sixth of Feb-ruary, 1841, the son of Hon. Alvah and Martha Jane Leavitt Doe. Mrs. Doe, whose maiden name was Clara A. Clifford, was born in Edgcomb, Maine, eighty-eight years ago. She is the daughter of the late Robert C. and Martha Perkins Clifford. Mr. and Mrs. Doe were married in Boston, January 21st, 1864, by the late Rev. Phineas Stowe, a Baptist clergyman. They have no children.

PARENTAL CONSENT GIVEN TO MARRIAGE

Miss Mildred J. Coyne, the 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Coyne of 10 Magnolia street, East Arlington, and Henry I. Regan, 19, of 61 Shurtleff street, Chelsea, who went to New York on New Year's Day, but failed in their attempt to be married there, were wedded Thursday evening, January 19th, at the parochial residence of the Church of the Immaculate Con-ception on Waterhouse street, Somer-ville, by Rev. Jeremiah F. Moriarty, curate at the church.

The consent of the parents had been received and the marriage li-cense was taken out in Chelsea.

The bride was attended by Miss Helena Regan of Chelsea, sister of the bridegroom, and Charles F. Coyne, brother of the bride, was best man. The couple left on a short honeymoon.

Telephone Business Has Grown In Arlington

Manager Conannon of the Tele-phone Company, says that the Tele-phone business in Arlington has grown during the past year, and he sees no reason why the growth should not continue during 1928. In-reviewing the work of the local tele-phon office during this past year, he said:

"On December 31st, 1927 there were approximately 8000 telephone stations in operation. During the year we installed 1666 telephones and removed 1068 telephones, leav-ing a net gain for the year of 598 stations.

There has recently been quite a de-mand for extension telephones and individual lines from people who have come to realize their conven-ience in homes and offices and we have placed quite a number of them during the past few weeks.

"To keep up with the demand for telephone service, the Company has spent many thousands of dollars here in Arlington for new equipment, in-cluding cables, wires and additions to switchboards.

"People will be interested to know that to carry on the telephone busi-ness here requires the services of ap-proximately 100 employees. Of this number 90 are employed in the Cen-tral Office Operating Room.

"About 37,000 local calls are made by Arlington people every day. On the average, our Arlington operators handle about 2000 toll calls that originate with Arlington subscribers and about 1200 toll calls from other exchanges.

"The busiest time in the day is between 9.00 o'clock in the morning until 11.00 a. m. and from 6.00 p. m. to 8.30 p. m. The calls at this latter period are principally of a social na-ture.

"There has been a gradual im-provement in telephone service in the Arlington exchange all through the past year and criticisms are com-paratively few. When things go wrong we want to know it at once so that we can correct it just as soon as possible.

"We would also like very much to have the telephone users of the Ar-lington exchange know that the Man-ager's office has been arranged so that the people of Arlington might be in a position to do business direct with representatives who have been specially trained and are well qual-ified to satisfactorily take care of any telephonic matter that you might wish to call to attention.

Our business office is established to take care of the interests of our customers and if they will call Uni-versity 9900 and make inquiry for either the Misses Devino, Gavin or Grant, they will be most pleased to assist you. If you would prefer to write, please forward your letter to 10 Temple St., Cambridge. In the event that you should feel you have not received proper information or attention please do not hesitate to communicate with the Manager."

PRIZES AT WHIST PARTIES NOT ILLEGAL

There has been much question dur-ing the past year as to whether public whist parties are against the law. Most people have come to the con-clusion that they are not and the parties have been almost as frequent as they were before it was rumored that Attorney General Arthur K. Reading was conducting a campaign against them and that any whist party, however innocent, might be raid-ed. There have been many, though, who have interpreted the law as meaning that it is illegal to offer prizes at a card party.

To these it will be pleasant news that such prizes are not against the law. On the contrary, it is perfectly all right to give prizes for the high-est scores. If, however, during the evening anyone goes through the hall selling chances on automobiles, lamps, blankets, groceries or any-thing else, it is a lottery, the whist party is illegal and its promoter and everyone attending is liable to arrest. The same thing is true when num-bered tickets are given out at the door and the lucky number is given a prize. In fact, if a prize is award-ed for any other reason than the score at cards, the party becomes il-legal.

Last spring Attorney General Reading called a conference of the heads of churches and fraternal bod-ies and brought to their attention the law in Massachusetts concerning lotteries. This was done because com-plaints had been made to the At-torney General's office that charitable, church and fraternal bodies were overdoing lotteries. At field days, bazaars and outings held over a year ago, roulette wheels and similar de-vices were in common use in addition to the sale of chances on all sorts of articles.

If you own a hall and knowingly permit a lottery to take place in it, you are liable to arrest. If you at-tend the lottery you are liable to ar-rest. If you buy a ticket, you are liable to arrest—and the fines run as high as $2000 and not more than a year in prison. If you advertise the lottery in your shop window with a placard, you are liable to arrest. And if you printed the tickets used in the lottery, you are liable to ar-rest.
